

THE CENTRAL RECORD

FOURTEENTH YEAR.

LANCASTER, KY., FRIDAY, AUGUST 7 1903.

NUMBER 19

BUGGIES SURRIES HARNESS

We will and do save people MONEY who buy from us.

J. R. HASELTEN.

Of Local Interest.

Chickens are still high and scarce.

Home-grown tomatoes are plentiful.

The waterworks bonds sold like hot cakes.

Everybody is at the Danville Fair today.

Several nice showers have fallen recently.

Only $1.50 to Cincinnati and return Sunday.

Don't forget the Library meeting tonight.

An ice plant will be erected as soon as the water works are completed.

The $1.50 excursion to Cincinnati Sunday leaves about 5 o'clock. Are you going?

Hats off to the City Council. They are for progress.

Don't forget this is the last day of the Danville Fair.

Lancaster will no longer be known as the moss-back town.

The present City Council deserves the highest praise from our citizens.

Go to the Danville Fair today. Its bigger and better than ever. Today, Friday, is the last day.

A Lancaster gentleman is figuring on putting in a steam laundry, and tells us he means business.

Many people are taking Sunday supper at Zimmer's restaurant during the hot weather. The fare is fine.

The Record prints pictures of several of the City Councilmen in this issue. Others had no photographs, but we hope to print them soon.

Mat Siler, who was kicked by a horse court day, has about recovered from the injuries. The place on his head is well, but where he was struck on the "stats" remains quite sore.

Judging from the many waterworks men in town Saturday, the job of putting in the Lancaster plant is a nice job to do. There were ten or twelve gentlemen here from up East.

Alex Miller has taken charge of the Danville stage line, but this will not interfere with his meeting you at the trains. Ring up 122 and a closed carriage will call for you.

The Fair to be given by the colored people of Garrard and Lincoln counties August 27, 28, 29, 1903, will be the biggest event the colored people will have in Kentucky this season. Good men are at the head of it, big premiums are offered and a tremendous crowd will attend.

A New Road.

A new turnpike is to be constructed from Point Leavelle through the flat woods to Hammack, the pike will be 3 1/2 miles long, operations will begin August 10th.

Engage Your Steeper.

The diagrams for the C. & O. Excursion to Atlantic City on August 13th are now open and all persons desiring sleeping car reservations will please notify Mr G W Barney, D. P. A., Lexington, Ky., at an early date.

John Conn Hurt.

John Conn, a brother of the carriage dealer James Conn and himself an expert machinist, fell Sunday afternoon and broke his right ankle. Dr Kinnaird attended the injured man, the break while not a severe one, will confine him to his room for some time.

Fine Mail Service.

Our copy of the Cynthiana Democrat, due Saturday night, came lumbering in Friday, of last week. The Cincinnati Enquirer sometimes gets here on day of publication, while the Lexington papers come in any old time. This is certainly annoying, and some of the plow hands in the mail service should be turned out to graze.

The Dove Season.

Last Friday the closed season on the doves expired and under the provisions of the game law it will be permissible to shoot them until next spring. Reports from the wheat fields are to the effect that the birds are unusually plump this year, and some good sport is expected in the stubble patches later on.

Big Deal in Hay.

Danville Advocate:—On account of the shortage of the hay crop in Central Kentucky, the Kentucky Supply Company is negotiating for the purchase of 100 car loads of hay in Illinois. The cost there is $8 per ton, and negotiations are now being made with the railroad for the shipment. It is thought that the hay can be laid down in Danville for less than $11 per ton.

Youngest Merchant.

Lancaster probably has the youngest merchant in the state. We refer to Master Joseph Ballou, of the grocery firm of H. M. Ballou & Son. The young man is about three years of age, yet his name appears in the firm, and he is a full-fledged partner. He is an exceedingly handsome little fellow, and being the pet of the household, Mr Ballou decided to start him in business early in life. It is quite a novelty, and Mr Ballou is frequently asked who the "son" is.

Fishing Privilege.

A number of leading fishermen are organizing a club for the purpose of leasing the fishing and boating privilege at the waterwork lake. The admission fee will be placed large enough to enable the club to pay a stiff price for the lake, keep out objectionable characters and have enough funds to stock it with the most desirable fish. This is a good idea, as it will not only furnish good sport, but will keep people away from the lake, and off the premises. In some towns the fishing privilege brings the lake-owners a handsome sum, and it should not be given away here.

Killing Near Bryantsville.

Near Bryantsville Saturday night, Jesse Alford, a farmer shot Tom Coleman colored, inflicting wounds which resulted in Coleman's death Sunday night, the weapon used was a double barrel shot gun. The men it seems, had had previous trouble over some hogs, Colman went to Alford's house on Saturday night, called him out and cursed and shot at him, Alford returned the fire with the above result. Alford was arrested and is under guard at Bryantsville, his examining trial will be held here before Judge Ford Tuesday.

Important Meeting.

After considerable delay, those working on the proposed library have gotten matters in such shape that a public meeting will be held at the Court House tonight (Thursday), for the purpose of effecting a permanent organization. There is no doubt that it will be a "go" if the people will attend the meeting and show some enthusiasm. The leaders in the undertaking say they are certain of several very liberal subscriptions which will be forthcoming if enough interest is manifested. It is the intention to locate the library in the second story of the Sweeney building, which has been rented by the W. C. T. U., as mentioned elsewhere in this issue. If you are interested in the Library, attend the meeting at the Court House tonight.

Good Selections.

President Paul M Moore, of the Kentucky Press Association, has announced his committees to serve the ensuing year, and the selections could not have been better made. The Executive Committee consists of E A Gullion, New Castle Local; Desha Breckinridge, Lexington Herald; Lew B Brown, Harrodsburg Democrat; T O Underwood, Hopkinsville New Era, and Heber Mathews, Hartford Herald. The committee to look after the advertising laws consists of Lew B. Brown, Harrodsburg Democrat, chairman, E C Smith, Carrollton Democrat, and Wm Henry Jones, Glasgow Republican. President Moore is to be congratulated upon the excellent selections, as more capable, hard working newspaper men could not be found.

Contract Let.

Work on Waterworks to Begin At Once. Plant to Cost $24,441.

After lagging at the tail end of the procession for many years, Lancaster is to now catch step to the music and take her place where she properly belongs, right at the head on the front seat of the band wagon. Saturday, the City Council opened bids and awarded a contract for a splendid system of water works. The advertisement brought quite a number of contractors here, and there were many bids. The contract was awarded to Bradford & Co., of Louisville. This bid was to put the system in complete, with all the pipes, engines, 40 fire plugs, build the lake, and, as house builders say, "turn over the keys." The engines are to be of standard make and all the machinery of the latest improved pattern. The lake is to cover six acres, the dam twenty-five feet high, water to stand twenty-three feet deep, the overflow to be 25 feet wide. As stated in a recent issue of The Record, the Council purchased ten acres of land on the Geo. Evans farm, a short distance from town, for $1,500. The land so lies that by constructing this 25 foot dam, the above mentioned lake can be forced, the drainage from other lands being ample (so experts say) to keep the lake full at all times.

The land lies in a beautiful woodland, and there is absolutely no stream running there to bring in filth or objectionable matter of any kind. While on this subject we wish to say that we recently heard an expert, sent out by the Government to inspect systems of water works, discuss the "running" and "surface" water question. "You people at Lancaster are to be congratulated upon your plan," he said, "What is 'surface water' if river water is not 'surface' water? You can't travel half a mile on any river, especially the smaller ones, without seeing the carcass of some dead animal, to say nothing of the many little creeks which run from towns into the rivers. Your lake gets its supply from bluegrass covered lands, absolutely clean. Now, which is the purest, the water coming from town branches, dead animals and a thousand other equally as dirty sources, or that which runs off blue grass pastures?" We give his words, which seem to us as convincing of the purity of the water.

There are to be forty fire plugs stationed around the town. Now, what is that for Lancaster? That in itself is worth what the whole system will cost. The main pipes along the principal streets are to be eight inches, which are used in towns of ten thousand inhabitants. The pipes on the side streets will be six inches. Thus, you see, the Council has taken ample care for any growth of the town. Two standard engines will furnish the pressure. Both will run during the day, while only one will be kept in motion during the night. The fire in the other will be "banked" at night, so in case of fire the highest pressure may be put on at a moment's notice.

The Record has advocated the putting in of water works ever since the present editor has been at the helm, and we have been so enthusiastic that possibly our readers may think we are overly elated now, but we are only giving the opinion of men who have experience in such matters, and who know more about the necessities than do we backwoods sages. Experts say the lake, with no rain for six months will supply a town twice this size abundantly. With the usual rains, the overflow will be necessary nearly every time it rains. Most everybody in the town has a good cistern, and as the estimates have been made as though we had no water at all, you easily see the supply is all right.

The contractor has given good bond for faithful fulfillment of contract. The work is to be completed, the "keys turned over," by Dec. 1st, this year.

The bonds, to be issued by the town are now in our hands being printed, and will be ready in a few days. They are to bear five per cent, and there are forty eight of five hundred dollars each. They have all been sold, every one was bought by home people, which shows a good spirit upon the part of local capitalists. The entire debt will be wiped out in thirty years.

To have gone to the river would cost much more money than was at hand, and as stated above, the question of purity was as important a consideration as that of expense. If you are inclined to believe that the river would afford better water we ask you to make the same investigation that the City Council did before you condemn the lake idea. They consulted people who know about such matters, they didn't go to street-corner sages and goods-box orators for advice. But, if you are a doubting Thomas, the Council will gladly explain to you the knowledge they received. They didn't go blindly into the matter, but gave time and study, so our advice is to close upon adverse comment now that the matter is settled satisfactorily. Lancaster is now in the fight and up with her hustling neighbors, so catch step to the music and pull altogether for your home town, the best one an Alwise Being ever permitted to be placed on the map.

To Stock the Streams.

The Washington City officials have sent a thousand black bass minnows to Bourbon county to be placed in the streams. Most of these found their way into private ponds, where they won't do the public any good. They should have been placed in the creeks, where everybody could have a show at them. An attempt will be made to get some for the streams next time.—Paris Gazette.

Good News for Hunters.

Quail hunters expect this fall to be one of the best seasons they have had for many years. Quail do not migrate, and hunters can tell in the summer how the hunting will be during the winter. The past winter and spring in this section have been very favorable for the breeding of the quail. Snow did not stay on the ground long enough at one time to keep them from feeding or to starve any of the birds. Spring was almost satisfactory for nesting. In some sections of the country thousands of young birds were drowned by floods or excessive rains, but in Kentucky there has been no trouble of this kind. A few young birds may have been drowned during the heavy rains of the early spring, but there are still an unusual number of live birds. Quail hatch out two broods each year, so the second one is just large enough to shoot when the season opens.

Calls 'Em to Taw.

Danville Advocate:—Members of the Boyle County Fiscal Court have criticised the Advocate for calling attention to the neglect of that body in causing to have published a statement of the financial condition of Boyle county, including the claims allowed during the past year. This information should have been considered in a different light—it should have been affectionately appreciated. The entire Fiscal Court is in danger of indictment and liable to be removed from office. Bearing directly on the subject is section 3748 of the Kentucky Statutes: "County officers guilty of malfeasance or neglect—penalty: Judges of the county court, justices of the peace, sheriffs, coroners, surveyors, jailers, assessors, county attorneys and constables shall be subject to indictment in the county in which they reside for malfeasance in office, or willful neglect in the discharge of official duties, and upon conviction, shall be fined in any sum not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars; and upon such conviction the office held by such person shall become vacant and the judgment of conviction shall so recite; but such officer shall have the right to appeal to the Court of Appeals."

There will be work in the Entered Apprentice degree at the Masonic Lodge Tuesday evening.

W. C. T. U.

Having secured the building the next step is to furnish it. We need chairs, couches, dishes and in fact any thing that a housekeeper can use. We ask the hearty co-operation of all of our friends. If they do not wish to donate they can lend these articles.

No Excuse Now.

Bradford & Co., who are putting in the water works, wants all the able bodied hands they can get, and are offering good prices. Any man can get work who wants it. Now keep tab on those who will not work and, when they come begging next winter turn them down.

A Noble Undertaking.

The local Womans Christian Temperance Union has rented the Sweeney building, both stories, and will at once open reading rooms, rest rooms and toilet rooms for the public. As stated in a recent issue of The Record, the ladies have been at work on the matter for some time, and a few days ago closed a contract for the building. The entire house is being painted and papered, and when the ladies get it furnished, it will be one of the prettiest in the state. As stated before, large rooms are equipped with all the latest magazines, books, daily papers, all The Record's exchanges and everything in the reading line, except novels, etc. These rooms will be nicely carpeted, with nice desks, pens, ink, stationery and every convenience one may wish. Other rooms will be furnished for ladies, with wash basins, mirrors, towels, combs, brushes, etc. This will be a great convenience to those coming in from the country. Tables will be provided for eating lunches, and a colored woman will be present at all times to attend to the wants of those ladies who desire her services. The down stairs rooms are for gentlemen, and plenty of comfortable chairs will be placed for any gentlemen who wish to spend a time reading, talking or writing. A janitor will be present all the time and the entire building will be kept inviting and comfortable during the entire year. The business men contributed liberally to the undertaking, and in less than six months the people will wonder how we ever got along without it. Ice water in summer, and good fires in winter will be a god-send to all, especially to those coming in from the country. It is understood, of course, that all these accommodations are absolutely free to the public. A member of the Union tells The Record that the rooms will be ready for the public in a short time. The painters are now at work. This idea is one of the best we have ever known of, and it will help the W. C. T. U. wonderfully, as it will bring before the public more plainly the noble object for which the Union is organized.

The Ladies Aid Society will meet with Mrs T S Elkin Saturday afternoon.

The wholesale grocery of Curry & Co., of Junction City, was burned Wednesday morning.

Good for Dan.

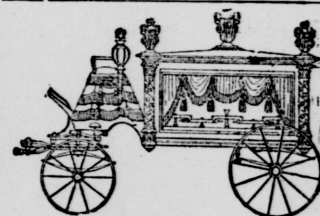

Mr Dan Elkin took some of his folks to the Danville Fair Tuesday and secured three blue ties, first on his Pekin ducks, first on White Minorca rooster and first on hen. Dan is a mighty clever young man and has many friends who delight in his good luck.

Lancaster Boy Goes West.

Stanford Interior Journal:—George B Harris, who has been Mr J S Rice's assistant for about a year left yesterday for Eldorado, Ark., to accept a position as telegrapher in a cotton exchange. He made many friends while here. We give him up with much regret and wish him success in his new home.

Must Do Something.

A member of the local committee to raise funds in Garrard for the Kentucky exhibit at the World's Fair asks The Record to call a meeting of citizens at City Court room Tuesday night at 7.30. It is very important the Garrard county take part in this move and now is the time to act. Remember the meeting, and be there.

CENTRAL RECORD.

LOUIS LANDRAM.

Entered at the Post Office in Lancaster, Ky., as Second-Class Mail Matter.

Lancaster, Ky. August 7, 1903.

Now that the mountain has been climbed, the task of securing water-works accomplished, The Record wishes to express hearty congratulations to the City Council. They have been working on this proposition ever since they were elected and many plans have been discussed. They are among our leading business men, and few would have given the time and worry to the matter that they have. They have been criticised, as are all men who try to build up Lancaster, but they kept their council, sawed wood and said nothing when criticised by people who ought to know better. They realized that the people elected them on the water works ticket, and that they have been faithful to the trust all will readily agree. The building of the system was viewed from every possible stand-point, and with Lancaster's taxable property, we venture to say that no men could have adopted a better plan. Of course there was adverse criticism to the plan, but they might have adopted any other, and some men would have thought otherwise. You can't get every body to see the same thing the same way, there's bound to be a difference of opinion, so now that Lancaster is to have water, the question is settled, as the town has a chance to prosper and build up, let's forget all old scores, every body put a shoulder to the wheel and make our pretty little town what she should be. We are all one large family, so let's have no more backbiting, no more of the efforts to pull down a struggling fellow man, but stand by one another in all that is right, dwell together in unity, and the God of love and peace will delight to dwell in and with us.

When Paul said that the love of money was the root of all evil, he fashioned a key which unlocks most of the situations presented today, says the Winchester Democrat. It is that love which sells votes and law; which falsifies action that should be pure; which purchases or sells favors in charters and decisions; which softens sermons to the susceptibilities of sins, common or preferred; which debauches legislatures, judges and juries; which sacrifices armies by treachery and destroys soldiers with bad provender, and with adulterated drugs; which sends sailors to sea in rotten timbers; which defrauds banks by forgeries; which ruins credit with lies; which cheats insurance companies with produced fires, and which makes the organization of labor the prey of the own venal officials. Those who love work, study culture, charity, justice, fair play, honesty, thrift, self-respect, education, and doing good to others more than they love money. Those who regard wealth as a religion, have no reason to be envious of those in whom the love of money is the master passion.

The Lexington papers have been fuming and fussing among themselves over the recent hanging over there. Tut, tut, boys, that won't do. What you want to do is get together and hustle for more hangings. Boost 'em up, clamor for hangings, and plenty of them. There is no danger of an overproduction of executions over there, as well as in the state at large.

'Frisco doctors claim to have a cure for lockjaw. What is needed in these days of slanderous gossip is more lockjaw, something that will cause it. If those jaws who wag to grind out villainous slander could be eternally locked, it would be a Godsend to the country.

Experiments made in New Jersey show that mosquitoes are greatly affected by music. The class of "harmony" dealt out these days would not only affect mosquitoes but is calculated to put most any living thing in its grave.

"It would be interesting if the young women who go bare headed in summer would start the fashion of going bare footed," remarks an exchange. Yes, it would set the people to wondering how the dear girls get No. 8 feet into No. 3 shoes.

A New Jersey woman's reason was restored by her falling from a third story window to a brick pavement. We know some people who need to fall off the Washington monument.

The man who talks about the hot weather is an angel of mercy compared to the fellow who talks politics and tells you of his physical disabilities.

End of Matter Fight.

"Two physicians had a long and stubborn fight with an abscess on my right lung" writes J F Hughes of DuPont, Ga., "and gave me up. Everybody thought my time had come. As a last resort I tried Dr King's New Discovery for Consumption. The benefit I received was striking and I was on my feet in a few days. Now I've entirely regained my health." It conquers all Coughs, Colds and Throat and Lung troubles. Guaranteed by McRoberts' Drug Store. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free. 1m Davy Crockett in Politics.

As an example of Crockett's early electioneering methods one might mention his first canvass for the Legislature. Regarding this, he says: "I didn't know what the Government was, I didn't know what General Jackson was the Government." Meeting Colonel Polk, later to be President Polk, the latter remarked, "I think it possible we may have some changes in the judiciary." "Very likely," replied Davy, "very likely," and discreetly withdrew. "Well," he comments, "if ever I knowed what he meant by 'judiciary,' I wish I may be shot. I never heard there was such a thing in all nature."

Again, Crockett, in what is called his "autobiography," a work which he no doubt in part dictated or at least authorized, gives the following account of one of his speeches to a strange crowd at Raleigh, while Crockett was en route to Washington to take his first seat in Congress. Said he, "Hurrah for Adams," and said I, "Hurrah for hell, and praise your own country!" And he said, "Who are you?" Said I, "I'm that same Davy Crockett, fresh from the backwoods, half man, half alligator, a little touched with snapping turtle, can wade the Mississippi, leap the Ohio, ride a streak of lightning, slide down a honey locust and not get scratched, I can whip my weight in wild cats, hug a bear too close for comfort, and eat any man up posed to Jackson."

Potent Pill Pleasure.

The pills that are potent in their action and pleasant in effect are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. W S Philpot, of Albany, Ga., says, "During a bilious attack I took one. Small as it was it did more good than calomel, blue-mass or any other pills I ever took and at the same time it effected me pleasantly. Little Early Risers are certainly an ideal pill." NINA.

Mr Robert Conn, of Manse, visited his daughter, Mrs E G Creech last Sunday.

Mr Richard Clark and family of Covington, visited W A Wheeler and family last week.

Mr and Mrs Lunsford of Preachersville visited their daughter, Mrs J B Curtis, last week.

We are glad to report our sick improving and hope they will soon enjoy the blessings of health.

Rev J M Bruce, pastor of Freedom church is conducting a series of meetings at the school-house. Preaching only at night.

Mr Joe Prather's horse became frightened while driving along the road ran away and tore the buggy up, but Joe was not hurt.

On account of the postoffice getting burned with all the fixtures our mail services was delayed for a week but is now in running order to the satisfaction of everybody.

On the night of July 22nd the store house of E G Creech was burned with postoffice. When discovered the flames were beyond control. There was nothing saved. It is hoped that Mr Creech will rebuild and resume business for he is a clever gentleman and every body likes him as a business man.

A New Kind of Potato Bug.

Richmond Register:—We were shown specimens this morning of a new potato bug, culled from the crop of "Umbrella Jack" Buckner, which are fendish enough in shape to haunt one for a week. In size and appearance, they are somewhat similar to craw-fish, with the additional accoutrements of wiry horns and cloven hoofs. They are said to dig into the heart of the potato, completely disemboweling same. Should they prove numerous, they will become a serious menace to the crop this year. So far we have heard of their presence in this one instance, and hope there will be no others. Mr Buckner will be grateful to any naturalist who will classify and name the genus of his invaders.

Tobacco Outlook.

The 1903 burley tobacco crop will probably be a light one, says the Western Tobacco Journal. The high prices now being paid on the breaks and in the country are largely due to this fact. Shippers to the Cincinnati market estimate the acreage to be from 10 to 26 per cent. short of last year, and last year's crop was considerably below the average. It would seem that a large crop was not contemplated by the owners originally, owing to the scarcity of labor and the low prices prevailing, and the acreage was later reduced by unfavorable weather to prepare the ground and set the plants. In most localities plowing was done when the ground was either too wet or too dry. This was unavoidable on account of the long wet and dry spells, which took turns about in keeping the growers from catching up with their spring work.

Kat all you Want.

Persons troubled with indigestion or Dyspepsia can eat all they want if they will take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. This remedy prepares the stomach for the reception, retention, digestion and assimilation of all of the wholesome food that may be eaten, and enables the digestive organs to transform the same into the kind of blood that gives health and strength. About the Hemp.

A prominent hemp grower was interviewed by the Lexington Herald and said: "Not 25 per cent. of the hemp now growing in Fayette and other hemp growing counties of Kentucky will be broken. Throughout the Blue Grass-region, where the drouth has been most severe on the best lands," he continued, "hemp shows the need of rain very badly. Most of it is not over three feet tall and is blooming. Whenever hemp blooms and the stem gets hard and dry no amount of rain will do it any good. The yield this year will be very small and as a matter of course the price will be higher. Mr W J Loughridge tells me that he has bought $100,000 worth of hemp and in many instances he is buying it in the field. The market price of hemp is now $5.50 a long hundred."

Dynamiting.

A well-known citizen of the McCoun Ferry vicinity, while in Harrodsburg the other day, said to a Democrat representative that the continuous work of men dynamiting for fish in the Kentucky river had done an immense amount of damage and thousands of fish had been killed and could be seen floating on top of the water. At times the stench arising from the river is so bad that the people in the vicinity can hardly stand it and are forced at times to keep their doors and windows closed. The terrific explosions have caused the banks of the river in many places to give way and large trees slue off into the water and can be seen standing with the water up to the branches. Great strips of land will break loose and slide off into the river and the people are considerably wrought up over the matter. This unlawful practice of fishermen has been going on a long while and the good citizens will use every effort to have it stopped by law.

Visiting Kentucky Elks Fairs.

You can't lose the Lexington Elks. They are visiting all the central Kentucky Elks Fairs this year again, as usual, and have made a hit wherever they have gone. At Georgetown last week they chartered a special train of electric cars over the new inter-urban road. Not only did they go themselves but they took several thousand Lexington people with them. The inter-urban railway could hardly handle the crowd and had to lease special cars from Lexington. The Lexington Fair is August 10-15, inclusive, and there will be all kinds of features to be seen there this year. DeBaugh's Band of Chicago, with thirty-five musicians, will play, there will be running and trotting races daily, the stock rings will be fine, and there will be plenty of amusement for the ladies and children. The biggest crowd on record is expected this year. The railroads have granted a rate of one fare the round trip from all points in Kentucky.

Land, Stock, Crops.

The average yield of the wheat harvest of South Australia is six bushels per acre, and the surplus available for export 130,539 tons.

The United States for the year ending June 30, this year, exported 200,947,637 bushels of wheat, including the quantity in the flour expected.

The corn exports from the United States for the year ending with June was 74,300,370 bushels. For the same time last year we exported 26,924,268 bushels.

According to the census statistics, the combined poultry and egg product of the United States exceeds the value of the entire output of precious metals and is six times greater than the wool produced.

California wants 2,000 laborers to help harvest its fruit crop, and has an agent, W H Murphy, at Washington City, hunting for them. Hesays the pay will be $1.50 to $2.50 per day, according to ability.

It is announced that important ports in Manchuria, China, are opened for American flour, meat, and our trade generally, and it is very probable that our exports to China will increase rapidly in the next few years.

A correspondent of the Drovers' Journal, of Chicago, writing from Dundee, Illinois, says that from three acres well set two years in alfalfa, he sold $110 worth of hay last year, and had the fourth cutting left for his own use. It is equally promising this year he says.

Many persons in this community are suffering from kidney complaint who could avoid fatal results by using Foley's Kidney Cure. C C and J E Stormes. 1m

The Daily Trade Bulletin estimates the winter wheat yield of the United States at 470,000,000 bushels, and spring wheat at 265,000,000, total 735,000,000 bushels. The Bulletin states that the estimates place the world's wheat crop at 60,000,000 bushels short of last year's yield.

Farmers' Bulletin No. 133, by the Department of Agriculture, says that a ton of alfalfa hay contains 44 pounds of nitrogen, 8.27 pounds of phosphoric acid, 50.95 pounds of potash and 40 lbs of lime. Being a leguminous plant alfalfa draws the larger part of its nitrogen from the air, and so increases it in the soil.

"What is the difference between hens and poultry, pop?" "Why, hens my son, are things that belong to our neighbors; poultry is something a man owns himself."

The yield and cost of growing an acre of tomatoes is put by the Practical Fruit Grower as follows: "The total cost of an acre of tomatoes is from $40 to $60, the range of yield from 75 to 200 crates, while prices vary from 40 to 60 cents per crate. These replies are based on experiences in 1902. Small plantations carefully tended usually produce the largest crop and net the greatest profits per acre. Fifty acres at least, are necessary that car load shipments may be made."

The kicking milk cow is a vexation and a regularly recurring tribulation. Unless she is of surpassing value as a breeder, better give her her dispensation. The time spent in applying fastenings, straps and ropes and anti-kicking devices to prevent her from kicking, is wasted, for she will never be broken of the habit. Sell her and buy a cow without vicious habits. Or better yet, raise one. A cow you raise yourself will never be a kicker, unless she is expressly trained to be one.

Ohio and Kentucky tobacco growers expect to get high prices this season because of the indicated shortage in the Southern crop. Official announcement has been made that the high prices for cotton have resulted in a decrease in the tobacco acreage and a corresponding increase in the cotton area. Southern advices are to the effect that the profit in cotton is so large under prevailing conditions that tobacco growing will be abandoned in many sections this year. Under the circumstances many of the leaders in the trade look for high prices this year, especially since the weather in some important areas of the tobacco belt has been bad thus far.

To go among the produce houses of the town and about the stock scales of the depot would give sufficient evidence that Larue county farmers are not attempting by any means, to live on the unreliable crop of wheat. At the produce houses chickens and eggs are rolling in by the wagon loads and are selling at one price. At the stock scales hogs and sheep are being weighed and exchanged for bank checks, and in a lively manner. The wheat crop has long been the dignified crop of our country, but farmers are rapidly losing confidence in it and have not the respect for it they once possessed, for the reason that in late years it has made them but little money, while the corn crop and hogs, together with the chicken and egg crops of the small farmers, has been the salvation of the farmers of this section.—Larue County Herald.

The largest poplar log ever taken out of Letcher county has just been taken from the farm of Isaac Potter, a Boone's Fork farmer, and floated down the Kentucky River. The tree in question contained three 15 foot cuts and the tip cut contained 3,500 feet of lumber and was nearly seven feet in diameter. It required four yoke of oxen to pull the logs from the mountain side. The tree netted the owner nearly $200. There are several other mammoth trees further up in the mountains of Boone's Fork which are soon to be taken out.

The American farmer does not hoar his cash. He does not, like the peasant of southern Germany, know the system of "blue stocking" banking. Prosperity for him means a rise in the standard of living, or an improvement in the equipment of production, either of which constitutes an effective demand for the labor of the non agricultural classes. And, finally, it should be observed in this connection that the American farmer is, a rule, his own landlord. This makes an immense difference in the extent to which agricultural prosperity is diffused throughout the community.

Being his own landlord, he receives as a portion of his income the rent that accrues on his land. This not only puts at his disposal a larger sum of money to be expended, but it places the expenditure of this amount in the hands of a class whose demands are for a large quantity of common, ordinary goods. This of itself is a significant fact, for a moment's consideration makes it evident that an increase in the available wealth of a small aristocratic class must be followed by relatively slight industrial consequences as compared with the results of a diffusion of an equal amount among a large body of intelligent consumers.

Thus from every point of view, American agriculture is in a condition to control in large measure the industrial activity of the American people. The prosperity of the farmer, if not synonymous with the prosperity of the nation, is an essential for widespread industrial activity.

ing called Rev J C Carmichael to preach for them another year.

Quite a number from this section attended Camp meeting at Wilmore, Sunday.

The rain of last Thursday and Friday is improving vegetation. Corn will be greatly benefited. Things have taken a new lease on life and business is looking upward.

Every woman knows she's a coquette,
but she doesn't think others suspect
it.

Husbands are not made to order—but some wives seem to think they are.

Some men would rather preach than listen to an angel's harp practice.

No doubt poverty would be less of a misfortune were it not for the fact that so many people treat it as a crime.

$10,000 GIVEN AWAY.
The Louisville Courier-Journal to Make a Cash Distribution to Subscriber

In 1891-2 the Courier-Journal, of Louisville inaugurated and carried to a successful issue the first great estimating contest ever conducted by a newspaper. This contest was based on the Presidential election of 1892, and $14,000 was distributed to Courier-Journal readers.

In response to numerous requests the Courier-Journal has decided to inaugurate another similar contest based on the total vote cast for all candidates for Governor of Kentucky in the election, November 3, 1903. Ten thousand dollars (in gold, silver, or greenback) will be given away to successful esti-mators. There will be single gifts of $5,000, $1,000, $500, $200, $100, $50, and $20, and 1,500 gifts of $10 each. In addition, there will be gifts of $500, $200, and $100 for the estimate received before August 1, before September 1, October 1. The object of this profit-sharing contest is to give to the people of Kentucky the largest and most interesting contest ever conducted on the part of the Courier-Journal.

Every person subscribing for the Daily and Weekly Courier-Journal. Every person subscribing for the Weekly Courier-Journal one year, sending one dollar with the subscription is entitled to two guesses or estimates. Every person subscribing for the Daily Courier-Journal by mail one month (60 cents) is entitled to one guess: one year $1.00, twelve guesses. Renewals count the same as new subscribers.

A GREAT OFFER.
Louisville Times and Weekly Courier Journal Six Months, and the Central Record For only $2.00.

The LOUISVILLE TIMES and WEEKLY COURIER-JOURNAL are making an unprecedented campaign subscription offer—both papers six months for $1; to separate addresses if desired. As the regular price of THE TIMES for six months is $3 and that of the WEEKLY COURIER-JOURNAL 50c, this offer gives $3.50 worth of newspapers for a dollar bill; which ought to put the two papers into every home in Kentucky.

And to show that the Central Record can be just as liberal and enterprising we have joined the combination and will send the Central Record for a year, along with the other two for six months for $2.00; thus giving $4.00 for $2.00. All three to different addresses, as desired. "Now is the time to subscribe." Subscription received at this office.

SUPPLEMENT.

Lancaster, Ky. August 7, 1903.

Additional Local.

The Danville Advocate announces the marriage of Mr Charles Siliman and Miss Mary E. Bengé, in that city Wednesday evening. The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Rice Bengé, and has many friends in this, her old home.

Fire At Junction City.

Fire at Junction City, Ky., Wednesday morning destroyed the Commercial Hotel, Goods Bottling Works, the residence of Mrs S A Moore, W C Woolford's confectionery, Vogel's produce house and B W Durham's drug store, a total loss of close to $90,000

Union Services Changed.

The Union services will be held in the Christian church Sunday evening, instead of the Presbyterian church, as announced, and Rev. Mr Chumbley will preach the sermon.

Will Wed This Fall.

Mr and Mrs William B. Mason have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Katharine Logan, to Mr Roy Asa Haynes, of Hillsboro, O. The exact date has not been decided upon, but the marriage will take place in the early Fall. Mr Haynes is now professor in Miami Military Institute, Germantown, Ohio. He is a young man of brilliant prospects, having already received handsome promotions. The bride is the second daughter of Mr and Mrs Will Mason, and is a young lady of rare beauty and accomplishments. She is a prominent member of Lancaster society and one of our most popular belles.

Death of William Ward.

This community never received a greater shock than was the announcement yesterday morning of the death of Mr William Ward, proprietor of the Lancaster Mills & Elevator and the Electric Light Plant. Mr. Ward has not been a well man for some weeks, and only last week went to Dripping Springs for a rest from the many business matters he looked after. In addition to the above-mentioned business matters, he owned a large store at Livingston and had several other matters of importance on his hands. He was never a strong man physically, and his wonderful energy and enterprising make up caused the breakdown which resulted in his death.

Lancaster never had a more enterprising citizen than William Ward. He has always been in the lead for any improvement that was suggested for the town, willing to give his time and money for Lancaster's welfare, as his connection with so many industries goes to prove. His death is a great loss to the community, as such public-spirited men are needed in Lancaster. He leaves one daughter, Miss Cora, who has the heartfelt sympathy of the community in her sad bereavement. Two brothers and one sister survive, Richard Ward, of this city, Sam Ward, of Livingston and Mrs Lutes, of Indian Territory. Funeral services will be conducted at the Lancaster Cemetery tomorrow (Friday) morning at 10 o'clock, by Dr E H Pearce.

Charles Saulley, of Stanford, whose death was caused Sunday from an overdose of medicine, had many friends among the younger people of Lancaster who deeply deplore his untimely end.

Big Cattle Sales.

The Beazley Bros., sold the remainder of their big export cattle yesterday to Dick Gentry, for Nelson Norris, 141 head, at $4 85. J Y Robinson sold to same party 77 head at $4 90.
